Data security measures:

Transfer of personal data to third countries: No data is transferred.

Information security management system	Ensure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of organisational information by implementing regulations, processes, process descriptions, organisational structures, software and hardware functions.
Physical access	Ensure the protection of physical assets that contain data relating to MOL Group.
Logical access	Ensure that only approved and authorised users have access to data used by MOL Group companies.
Data access	Ensure that only those authorised to use the systems have access to MOL Group company data.
Transfer / storage / destruction of data	Ensure that MOL Group company data cannot be transferred, read, modified or deleted by unauthorised persons during transfer or storage. In addition, ensure the immediate deletion of MOL Group company data when the purpose of processing no longer exists.
Confidentiality and integrity	When processing MOL Group company data, ensure that the data is kept confidential and up to date and that its integrity is maintained.
Accessibility	Ensure that MOL Group company data is protected from accidental destruction or loss; in the event of incidents that cause such consequences, provide timely access to and recovery of MOL Group company data concerned.
Data separation	Ensure that data of MOL Group companies is treated separately from that of other customers.
Incident management	In the event of a breach of MOL Group corporate data, minimise the impact of the breach and notify the owners of MOL Group company data without any delay.
Audit	Ensure that the processor regularly tests, reviews and evaluates the effectiveness of the technical and organisational measures outlined above.

Your rights relating to data processing:

Your data protection rights and remedies and their limitations are set out in detail in the GDPR (in particular Articles 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 77, 78, 79 and 82 of the GDPR). You can request information about your data at any time, request the rectification, erasure or restriction of the processing of your data, object to processing on the basis of legitimate interests and the sending of direct marketing messages, and you have the right to data portability. Below is a summary of the main provisions. (For a detailed description of the rights, see the drop-down menu below).

Right to information:

If the Controller processes personal data relating to you, the Controller is obliged to provide you, even without your request, with information on the main characteristics of the processing, such as the purpose, the legal basis, the duration, the identity and contact details of the Controller and its representative, the recipients of the personal data (with appropriate and adequate safeguards in the case of transfers to third countries), the legitimate interests of the Controller and/or third parties in the case of processing based on legitimate interests, and your rights and remedies (including the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority) in relation to the processing, if you do not already have this information. In the case of automated decision-making and profiling, the data subject must also be provided with meaningful information about the logic involved, as well as about the significance and the envisaged consequences of such processing for the data subject. The Controller will provide this information by making this notice available to you.

Right of access:

You have the right to receive feedback from the Company as to whether your personal data is being processed and, if such processing is taking place, you have the right to access your personal data and certain information about the processing, including the purposes of the processing, the categories of personal data concerned, the recipients of the personal data, the (envisaged) duration of the processing, the rights and remedies of the data subject (including the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority) and, in the case of data not collected from you, information about the source of the data.

On request, the Company will provide you with a copy of the personal data processed. For any additional copies you request, the Company may charge a reasonable fee based on administrative costs. If you have submitted your request electronically, the information will be provided in a commonly used electronic format unless you request otherwise. The right to obtain a copy shall not prejudice the rights and freedoms of others.

Right to rectification:

You have the right to have inaccurate personal data concerning you corrected by the Company without undue delay upon your request. Taking into account the purpose of the processing, you have the right to request the completion of incomplete personal data, including by means of a supplementary declaration.

Right to erasure:

You have the right to have your personal data deleted by the Controller without undue delay upon your request, and the Controller is obliged to delete your personal data without undue delay if certain conditions are met. Among other things, the Controller is obliged to delete your personal data upon your request if the personal data is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it was collected or otherwise processed; if you withdraw your consent on the basis of which the data was processed and there is no other legal basis for the processing; or if the personal data has been unlawfully processed; or if you object to the processing and there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the processing; or if the personal data must be erased to comply with a legal obligation under Union or Member State law applicable to the Controller; or if the personal data has been collected in connection with the provision of information society services.

If the processing is based on your consent, the consequence of withdrawing your consent: if you withdraw your consent, we would not be able to provide you with any further information about the products.

Please note that the withdrawal of your consent does not affect the lawfulness of the processing carried out on the basis of your consent prior to its withdrawal.

The Controller will take all reasonable steps, including the use of technical means, to delete the photographs or copies or duplicates thereof.

Right to restrict processing:

You have the right to obtain from the Company a restriction on processing where any of the following applies:

- a) You dispute the accuracy of the personal data, in which case the restriction will apply for the period necessary for the Company to verify the accuracy of the personal data;
- b) the processing is unlawful and you object to the erasure of the data and request the restriction of its use instead;
- c) the Controller no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the processing, but you need it for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims; or
- d) you have objected to the processing, in which case the restriction shall apply for the period necessary to determine whether the Company's legitimate grounds override your legitimate grounds.

Where the processing is restricted on the basis of the above, such personal data may be processed, except for storage, only with your consent or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or for the purposes of protecting the rights of another natural or legal person or for important public interests of the Union or of a Member State.

The Company will inform you in advance if the restriction on processing you have requested is lifted.

Right to data portability:

You have the right to obtain the personal data relating to you which you have provided to the Controller in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and the right to transmit such data to another controller without hindrance from the Controller to whom you have provided the personal data, if:

the processing is based on your consent or on the performance of a contract (to which you are a party); and the processing is carried out by automated means.

In exercising your right to data portability, you have the right to request, where technically feasible, the direct transfer of the personal data between controllers.

The right to data portability must be without prejudice to the provisions governing the right to erasure and must not adversely affect the rights and freedoms of others.

Right to object:

You have the right to object at any time, on grounds relating to your particular situation, to the processing of your personal data on the basis of the Company's legitimate interest. In such a case, the Company may no longer process the personal data unless the Company can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Where personal data is processed for direct marketing purposes, you have the right to object to the processing of your personal data for such purposes.

If you object to the processing of your personal data for direct marketing purposes, your personal data will no longer be processed for these purposes.

How you can exercise your rights:

The Controller shall inform you of the action taken on your request concerning your rights set out above without undue delay and in any event within one month of receipt of the request. If necessary, taking into account the complexity and the number of requests, this period may be extended by a further two months. The Controller shall inform you of the extension of the time limit within one month of receipt of the request, stating the reasons for the delay. If the Controller fails to respond to your request, it will inform you without delay, but no later than one month after receipt of the request, of the reasons for not taking action, and of the possibility of lodging a complaint with the competent data protection supervisory authority (in Hungary, the National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information; "NAIH") and seeking a judicial remedy. Contact details of NAIH: H-1055 Budapest, Falk Miksa utca 9-11, postal address: H-1373 Budapest, PO Box 9, Phone: +36 1 391 1400, +36 (30) 683-5969 or +36 (30) 549-6838 Fax: +36-1-391-1410, Email: ugyfelszolgalat@naih.hu, website: <http://naih.hu/>

You can take legal action if your rights are infringed. The litigation falls within the jurisdiction of the Törvényszék (General Court). The action may, at the data subject's choice, also be brought before the court of the person's place of residence or domicile. The court may order the Controller to provide the information, to rectify, limit or delete the data, to cancel the decision taken by automated data processing, and to take into account your right to object. The court may order the publication of its decision in such a way as to identify the Controller or any other controller and the infringement committed by it.

You may seek compensation from the controller responsible for the damage caused by the unlawful processing (including failure to take security measures). If the controller violates your privacy rights by unlawfully processing your data or by breaching data security requirements, you may seek damages from the controller. The controller will be exempted from liability if it proves that the damage or the violation of the data subject's privacy was caused by an unavoidable cause outside the scope of the processing.

No compensation shall be paid and no restitution may be claimed if the damage was caused by intentional or grossly negligent conduct of the aggrieved party.
